Do you have any other special instructions for us?

The information on both this form and the BACS Transfer Form (some of which we have already obtained from publicly available sources including HM Land Registry) is needed for the purposes of:

- entering into and permitting payments to be made in accordance with the terms of the Access Licence for Surveys; and
- keeping reliable records of interactions we have with stakeholders, as described further in our Personal Information Charter. It is also necessary for our legitimate interests including in particular development of the East West Rail Project, as described in this pack and our Personal Information Charter. Our Personal Information Charter also sets out other important information, such as how we protect and retain your data, and the rights you have as a data subject. If you have any concerns, you have the right to complain to the Information Commissioner's Office. For further information in relation to how we process personal data, please see our Personal Information Charter at www.eastwestrail.co.uk/personal-information-charter
